Deniz's message: International Labour Day is celebrated globally on 1st May. The reason why such a day is observed is because of the struggles workers have had to go through historically, fighting for their rights, fair wages, reasonable working hours, and good and safe working conditions. During the Haymarket Affair in Chicago in 1886 workers rallied in support of an 8 hour work-day. This event ended with violence and many people lost their lives.

We celebrate brave movements which fight for freedom, justice, equality, peace and such Godly measures for the welfare of people. Many people have lost their lives fighting for the rights of others and many have received prizes for the same reason. There is one man and one God who fought for the rights and freedom of the entire humanity and lost his life for us, so that we may live. His name is Jesus. No other faith or religion can compare with what God offers us through Jesus.

May our lives bring his light into the world, and bring glory to Him.

Anything for inclusion in the next newsletter please make sure that it is sent to Sara at: enquiries@cleerway.org.uk no later than Monday 19th May
